

Allele entropy against edit burden, per integration

One point per integration. Point area is the number of non-missing cell-by-site entries for that barcode, since both axes fall when capture falls

